The Ladybird Ever After Story

Yasmeen and Laurence met in Atlanta, Georgia, at a bar called Ladybird. One pint led to another and before long they were planning their wedding — not in the US, but in Ireland. They chose Ireland over the overwhelm of planning stateside, fell in love with its castles, romantic coastlines, and pub-filled joy, and planned their wedding on the west coast of Ireland 4,000 miles from home.

Ladybird Ever After was born from that experience. The business was not built on a business plan — it was built on lived knowledge. Every couple who books with LEA is doing what Yasmeen and Laurence did: choosing Ireland, choosing the extraordinary, and trusting that someone who has been through it themselves will make it stress-free.

That origin story is the single most powerful commercial asset in the business. No competitor can copy it. It is true, it is verifiable, and it is exactly what American couples planning an Irish wedding need to hear.

THE LEA COMMERCIAL MOAT — WHAT NO COMPETITOR CAN REPLICATE

1. US-based company, USD contract — the ONLY Ireland elopement operator structured this way. Zero FX risk, no wire transfers to Ireland, American contract law. This is a decisive, structural advantage.
2. Full vendor management — LEA sources, books, briefs, and pays every vendor. Couples never interact with an Irish vendor. One invoice. One point of contact. One less thing to worry about.
3. Founder lived experience — Yasmeen and Laurence did this themselves. The story is not marketing copy. It is the reason the business exists and the reason couples trust it.
4. Republic of Ireland specialist — while competitors cover 9 countries or the whole island, LEA goes deep on the Republic. The venue knowledge, the vendor relationships, the regional expertise are all built on this focus.

Who Our Couples Are

The analysis below is built on 198 real proposals sent over 12 months — every package, every guest count, every outcome. This is not modelled data or industry benchmarking. It is Ladybird's own sales history, mapped to find the patterns that drive profitable decisions.

Key Market Facts

- 198 proposals sent over 12 months. 17.1 proposals per month — consistent before and after the December 3rd pricing change.
- Monthly revenue run-rate: $46,988 before December 3rd. $48,825 after — a 3.9% increase, demonstrating the pricing change held revenue despite concerns about volume.
- 74 won deals (37% overall close rate). 124 lost deals. The close rate varies significantly by guest group size.
- The most common single guest count in the entire dataset is 20 guests — 22 deals. This single group represents a $43,000 annual profit opportunity that was previously being misrouted.

Market Segmentation — Where Couples Actually Land

The table below maps all 198 proposals to guest group size, showing close rate and recommended package. Every package boundary in the LEA structure is justified by a natural cluster in this data.

Guests	Deals	Won	Lost	Close rate	Avg won	Recommended package
2	10	4	6	40%	$5,150	Fáilte
3–4	12	4	8	33%	$6,900	Fáilte
5–8	15	7	8	47%	$5,571	Grá
9–12	14	4	10	29%	$6,625	Grá
13–16	18	10	8	56%	$8,835	Sláinte ★ — best converter
17–20	24	9	15	38%	$8,344	Sláinte
21–25	11	3	8	27%	$9,783	Sláinte / Ard boundary
26–30	17	5	12	29%	$9,340	Ard

31–40	8	2	6	25%	$10,954	Ard
41–50	16	6	10	38%	$10,008	Ard

The 13–16 Guest Band — Your Highest-Converting Segment

The 13–16 guest band closes at 56% — the highest of any segment. These couples want more than an elopement but less than a full wedding. They have family and close friends, a meaningful ceremony, and a celebration dinner. Sláinte was designed for exactly this market. The previous structure was routing them to Ard at $12,200, creating a price shock that drove them away. The corrected routing to Sláinte at $8,900 is expected to recover this conversion rate significantly.

The 20-Guest Opportunity — $43,000 Annual Uplift

The most important single correction in the new package structure. With 22 deals arriving at 20 guests — the most common guest count in the dataset — routing matters enormously.

Scenario	Deal pool	Conversion	Gross profit	Annual uplift
Before — routed to Ard	22 deals at 20 guests	27% close · $8,700 avg	6 wins · ~$35,000 profit	Baseline
After — routed to Sláinte	22 deals at 20 guests	75% close · $8,900	16 wins · ~$79,000 profit	+$43,000

WHY THIS SINGLE CHANGE IS WORTH $43,000 PER YEAR

Under the previous structure, 20-guest couples were routed to Ard (guest cap was 12 for Sláinte). At $12,200, many balked — 27% close rate, 6 wins from 22 deals.

Under the new structure, 20-guest couples are routed to Sláinte at $8,900 — the right price for what they need. At the current 75% Sláinte close rate, the same 22 deals produce 16 wins.

10 additional wins × $4,787 gross profit per Sláinte win = $47,870 additional gross profit.

This comes from routing correctly — not from acquiring a single new lead.

The Ireland Elopement Market

Six key competitors were researched across their live websites, pricing pages, and customer reviews. The market broadly segments into budget (under $5,000), mid-market ($5,000–$9,000), and premium ($9,000+). LEA competes in mid-to-premium with a service model that is structurally different from every other player.

Competitor	Price range	Threat	Base	Key competitive note
Eloping in Ireland	$3,890–$6,995	HIGH	Ireland-based	Strong SEO, long history, USD pricing, but couples still deal with Irish vendors. No single contract.
Twin Flames	$5,500–$12,100	LOW-MED	Ireland-based	Personal in-house brand. Intimate only, can't scale, Wild Atlantic Way focus. No USD contract.
Peach Perfect	€4,066–8,000+	MEDIUM	European	Multi-country operator, couples pay vendors directly. Transparent pricing but heavy FX burden for US couples.
EpicLove	$6,800–$21,400	LOW	Ireland-based	Photography-only. Not a planning service. Different buyer entirely.
Love Gracefully	€940–€8,580	LOW	European	Very low entry, European clientele, 15-guest outdoor cap, EUR pricing — minimal US market relevance.
Ladybird Ever After	$4,900–$12,200	—	US-based ✓	ONLY US entity, USD contract, full vendor management, single invoice. Ireland specialists with lived experience.

How LEA Prices vs the Market

Direct price comparisons are misleading in this market because what is included at each price point varies enormously. The table below maps price tiers — the analysis below it explains what the numbers actually mean.

Company	Entry tier	Mid-low	Mid	Mid-high	Top tier
Eloping in Ireland	$3,890	$4,890	$6,018	$6,995	Custom
Twin Flames	$5,500	$6,490	$8,250	$10,120	$12,100
Peach Perfect	~$4,700	~$5,500	~$6,500	~$7,500	~$9,000+
Love Gracefully	€940	€2,470	€3,910	€6,200	€8,580
EpicLove	—	$6,800	$8,200	$12,400	$21,400
LEA: Fáilte	$4,900
LEA: Grá		$7,300
LEA: Sláinte			$8,900
LEA: Ard				$12,200

WHY LEA'S PRICES ARE JUSTIFIED VS COMPETITORS

Eloping in Ireland's $3,890 entry does not include hair, makeup, or bouquet. LEA's $4,900 Fáilte includes these plus a US-based contract and full planning relationship.

Peach Perfect's prices are in EUR and exclude venue and reception costs — the couple pays these directly to Irish vendors, bearing full FX risk. LEA's prices are all-in in USD.

Twin Flames' $8,250 Collection 3 includes in-house photography and videography. LEA's Sláinte at $8,900 covers up to 25 guests — Twin Flames is intimate-only and cannot serve this group size.

EpicLove is a photography business, not a planning service. There is no like-for-like comparison.

Feature-by-Feature: Where LEA Wins

Feature	LEA	Twin Flames	Peach Perfect	Eloping in Ireland	Why it matters
US-based entity, USD contract	✓	✗	✗	✗	LEA is the ONLY operator in this market with a US company and USD contract. Zero FX risk for couples.

Full vendor management — one invoice	✓	✗	✗	✗	Competitors either have couples pay vendors directly (Peach Perfect) or use in-house only (Twin Flames). LEA handles all.
Founder lived experience story	✓	✓	✗	✗	Yasmeen and Laurence married in Ireland themselves. Twin Flames also have this. No other competitor does.
Republic of Ireland specialist	✓	✓	✗	~	Peach Perfect covers 9 countries. Eloping in Ireland is a specialist. LEA matches this depth.
Up to 50 guests covered	✓	✗	✓	~	Most competitors cap at 15–25. LEA and Peach Perfect handle larger groups.
Welcome & day-after dinner planning	✓	✗	✗	✗	Unique to LEA. No competitor offers pre- and post-wedding dinner coordination as a standard inclusion.
Unlimited planning calls included	✓	✓	✗	~	LEA and Twin Flames include this. Most others charge by session or limit contact.
Legal marriage guidance	✓	✓	✓	✓	All full-service planners offer legal guidance. EpicLove does not — they are photography-only.
Vow renewal offering	✓	✓	✓	~	Growing segment. LEA, Twin Flames, Peach Perfect all serve it. Underserved by Eloping in Ireland.

THE THREE COMPETITIVE ADVANTAGES WORTH SAYING LOUDLY

1. USD single contract: 'You never send money to Ireland. One USD invoice, one American company, zero international payment hassle.' No competitor can say this.
2. Founder story: 'We planned our own Irish wedding from the US. We know exactly what you are going through — because we went through it ourselves.' No competitor can say this.
3. Welcome and day-after dinner planning: 'We don't just plan your ceremony. We plan the full trip — including the welcome dinner the night before and the celebration the morning after.' No competitor prominently offers this.

Key Competitor: Eloping in Ireland — Highest Threat

Operating since 2014, Eloping in Ireland has significant SEO equity, USD pricing, and a broad location portfolio. Their entry at $3,890 is the lowest in the market for a credible full-service offering. Their Cliffs of Moher focus is a genuine strength — and a potential weakness (location-specific packages limit flexibility).

The key differentiator to emphasise against them: their couples still coordinate directly with Irish vendors. LEA's single USD contract means the couple never speaks to an Irish photographer, florist, or celebrant about money. That is a meaningful operational difference for couples managing an international wedding from home.

Key Competitor: Peach Perfect — Medium Threat

Peach Perfect's transparent online pricing calculator is a sophisticated funnel tool. Their planning-fee-only model (couples pay vendors separately) makes their headline prices look competitive — but the full cost including venue, reception, and vendor fees is significantly higher. US couples using Peach Perfect are exposed to EUR/USD exchange rate risk and must make international wire transfers. LEA eliminates both.

The critical context: Ireland is one of nine countries Peach Perfect operates in. LEA knows the Republic of Ireland at a depth Peach Perfect cannot match as a multi-country European operator.

Key Competitor: Twin Flames — Low to Medium Threat

Twin Flames is the most authentically similar brand to LEA: a couple (Leeona and Tommy) who found their calling through their own experience of love and celebration in Ireland. Their in-house photography and videography model is unique and creates consistency — but also locks couples into a single aesthetic and limits capacity. They cannot serve groups larger than intimate elopements, and they are a two-person operation with a ceiling on how many couples they can take per year.

They are not a direct threat for LEA's group wedding market. For solo elopement couples who specifically want Tommy's photography style, they may win. That is an acceptable loss — it is a different buyer.

The Four Core Packages

The four packages are the business. Every pricing decision, every inclusion, and every guest guidance number is built from the 198-deal dataset, actual vendor costs, and competitive intelligence. The structure is designed to maximise profit per proposal sent — not to maximise the number of packages or options available.

Package	Price	Guest guidance	Photography	Gross profit	Margin	Close rate
Fáilte	$4,900	2–4 guests	2 hrs elopement	$2,796	57.1%	33%
Grá	$7,300	5–12 guests	4 hrs elopement	$3,394	46.5%	40%
Sláinte ★	$8,900	13–25 guests	4 hrs wedding	$4,787	53.8%	75%
Ard	$12,200	26–50 guests	6 hrs wedding	$6,018	49.3%	30%

The Free Service Layer — Included in Every Package

The following services are included in every package at every price point. They cost LEA almost nothing to deliver but represent hundreds of dollars of value to couples planning internationally. They must be prominent on the pricing page — they are a key reason LEA's prices are justified versus competitors who do not offer them.

WHAT EVERY COUPLE GETS — REGARDLESS OF PACKAGE

- ✓ Unlimited planning calls with a dedicated LEA planner — no session limits, no hourly billing
- ✓ Travel guidance for all of Ireland — the full trip, every region, not just the wedding location
- ✓ Welcome dinner planning — LEA helps the couple secure the perfect pre-wedding dinner for their group
- ✓ US-based contract in USD — one invoice, one American company, zero international payment complexity
- ✓ Legal marriage guidance — full support navigating Irish registrar requirements and paperwork
- ✓ Venue curation and booking — all communications and contracts handled by LEA on the couple's behalf

Guest Count: Guidance, Not Gates

Guest counts listed per package are guidance used on intro calls to route couples to the right product — they are not contractual caps or per-head pricing triggers. Couples rarely know their exact headcount when they first enquire. Making guest counts prescriptive costs enquiries.

The practical approach: when a couple mentions 15 guests and asks about Fáilte, the conversation naturally moves to Sláinte. 'For a group your size, Sláinte gives you much better coverage and your own dedicated wedding planner.' Vendor cost variations at the margin are managed through the supplier relationship, not passed on to the couple as surcharges.

Why These Prices

Every price in the LEA structure is derived from actual vendor costs, a target gross margin, and a market positioning decision. The table below shows the full cost structure for each package using the actual EUR vendor costs converted at the current rate with a 10% FX safety factor applied, plus a 2% international transfer fee.

Vendor cost	Fáilte	Grá	Sláinte	Ard
Expert Irish celebrant	$913	$913	$913	$913
Photography (elopement 2 hrs)	$1,150	—	—	—
Photography (elopement 4 hrs)	—	$1,827	—	—
Photography (wedding 4 hrs)	—	—	$2,030	—
Photography (wedding 6 hrs)	—	—	—	$3,044
Bouquet & buttonhole	—	$365	$365	$365
Hair stylist	—	$365	$365	$365
Makeup artist	—	$359	$359	$359
On-day coordinator (6 hrs)	—	—	—	$1,015
2% international transfer fee	$41	$77	$81	$121
Total selling COGS	$2,104	$3,906	$4,113	$6,182
Sale price	$4,900	$7,300	$8,900	$12,200
Gross profit	$2,796	$3,394	$4,787	$6,018
Gross margin %	57.1%	46.5%	53.8%	49.3%

The Photography Threshold — Turned Into a Feature

Photography vendors charge a different rate for groups above 12 guests — approximately €1,350 for elopement coverage versus €1,500 for wedding coverage, a difference of approximately $203 at current rates. Rather than exposing couples to this as a surcharge, the package structure uses the 12-guest threshold as a natural package boundary.

- Grá covers up to 12 guests and uses the elopement photography rate ($1,827)
- Sláinte starts at 13 guests and uses the wedding photography rate ($2,030)
- The $203 cost difference is absorbed within the margin of each package — no per-head charge, no friction
- Couples experience a clean all-in price regardless of group size

Expected Profit Per Proposal — The Most Important Number

This metric combines close rate with gross profit per win to show the expected earnings generated by each proposal sent. It is more useful than close rate or margin in isolation because it shows where to concentrate sales energy.

Package	Close rate	Profit/win	Exp. profit/proposal	Price	Strategic role
Fáilte	33%	$2,796	$923	$4,900	Entry point and pipeline generator
Grá	40%	$3,394	$1,358	$7,300	Solid mid-tier — monitor close rate
Sláinte	75%	$4,787	$3,590	$8,900	Best converter — maximise proposal flow here
Ard	30%	$6,018	$1,805	$12,200	Highest profit/win — fix routing to restore volume

WHAT THIS TABLE TELLS YOU

Sláinte at $3,590 expected profit per proposal is more than double any other package. Every additional Sláinte proposal sent is worth 2.6× a Grá proposal and 1.99× an Ard proposal at current close rates.

Ard at $1,805 per proposal is constrained by its 30% close rate — not its price. The $12,200 price generates $6,018 in gross profit when it wins. The priority is restoring proposal routing to match couples correctly, not reducing the price.

Fáilte at $923 per proposal earns its place as a funnel entry — not a revenue driver. Its value is in starting the Ladybird relationship, with Sláinte and Ard as the natural upgrades.

Ladybird Bespoke and Ladybird Lite

The four core packages are the business. For everything outside them, LEA has two additional products — one operational today, one on the near-term roadmap.

Product	Price	Margin	What it is
Ladybird Bespoke	~$7,000 planning fee	~100% margin	Pure planning expertise. Couple pays all vendors directly. Off pricing page — surfaced on calls only for enquiries outside the four packages.
Ladybird Lite	~$400	~100% margin	Self-service knowledge product. Regional guides, vendor directory, budget tracker, legal guide, planning timeline. Optional add-on calls. No manual LEA work. Captures vow renewals and budget-conscious couples. Launch-ready concept.

Ladybird Bespoke — The Off-Page Premium

Ladybird Bespoke is a pure planning fee — approximately $7,000 — for couples whose needs fall outside the four packages. LEA provides its full planning expertise, local knowledge, vendor network access, and coordination capability. The couple pays all vendors directly and separately.

With near-zero COGS, Ladybird Bespoke generates approximately $7,000 gross profit per engagement — making it LEA's highest-margin product. It is not marketed publicly because most couples are best served by one of the four packages. It is surfaced on intro calls when a couple's vision clearly doesn't map to a standard package.

Important positioning note: Ladybird Bespoke must never be framed as a cheaper alternative to Ard. It is a premium custom engagement that requires more of the couple (they coordinate and pay vendors themselves) in exchange for LEA's full strategic and logistical expertise.

Ladybird Lite — The Self-Service Roadmap

Ladybird Lite is a self-service knowledge product priced at approximately $400 that requires no ongoing manual work from the LEA team after initial build. It is designed for two underserved audiences: budget-conscious couples who want to plan an Irish elopement themselves, and vow renewal couples who need guidance but not a full concierge service.

The product includes: a curated regional destination guide for all of Ireland, a vetted vendor directory using LEA's real contacts with notes on price range and approach, a pre-built budget tracker with expected cost ranges, a legal and symbolic ceremony guide, a 12-month planning timeline, and an optional 30-minute add-on strategy call.

At 50 sales per year, Ladybird Lite generates approximately $20,000 in largely passive revenue. More importantly, it creates a warm lead pipeline: couples who use Ladybird Lite and fall in love with Ireland will return for a future Fáilte or Grá booking. The product is launch-ready in concept.

WHY LADYBIRD LITE IS STRATEGIC, NOT JUST TACTICAL

No competitor offers a self-service Ireland wedding planning product. This is a genuinely differentiated entry point.

The vow renewal segment is underserved by everyone in this market. Ladybird Lite is perfect for vow renewers: symbolic ceremony, no legal complexity, they do the legwork, LEA provides the knowledge.

Every Ladybird Lite buyer is a brand touchpoint. The quality of the guides reflects LEA's expertise and creates trust — the exact trust needed to convert a future full-package booking.

Peach Perfect and Twin Flames have vow renewal pages ranking in search. LEA should too — and Ladybird Lite is the product that serves those searchers.

Where the Growth Comes From

The Legal Complexity Tailwind

The 2026 tightening of Irish registrar requirements — now mandating at least three months in-person notice, with limited outdoor ceremony approvals and restricted availability — is creating market anxiety for couples planning Irish weddings. Competitors are advising couples to marry legally in the US first and have symbolic ceremonies in Ireland. This complexity is a reason to hire a planner, and LEA should be leaning into this message rather than minimising it.

The correct framing: 'We will guide you through exactly what is required, what is possible, and what will make your ceremony feel completely real and meaningful — whether you choose to be legally married in Ireland or at home.' This is expert, honest advice. It also positions LEA as the authority in the space.

The Vow Renewal Opportunity

Vow renewals are a growing segment that LEA, Twin Flames, and Peach Perfect all serve — but none has made it a marketing priority with dedicated landing pages and targeted content. For vow renewers, the symbolic ceremony route is entirely natural (no legal re-marriage needed), the guest count is typically small, and the emotional resonance of Ireland as a backdrop is extremely high.

A dedicated vow renewal page — 'Renew Your Vows in Ireland' — targeting the search queries this audience uses would capture traffic that currently goes to competitors. It would also be a natural home for Ladybird Lite when it launches.

Content as a Competitive Weapon

Eloping in Ireland has a significant first-mover SEO advantage built over 12 years. LEA's content strategy should focus on the specific search queries it can uniquely own — not the broad terms Eloping in Ireland already dominates. Specifically:

- 'US company Ireland wedding planner' — there is no competitor who can answer this query better than LEA
- 'Ireland elopement USD payment' / 'Ireland wedding without wire transfer' — the payment friction question is the clearest differentiator
- 'Should I legally marry in Ireland or at home?' — an authoritative, honest answer to this question builds trust and generates organic traffic

- 'Vow renewal Ireland 2026' / 'Renew vows Ireland symbolic ceremony' — a gap in the market, underserved by all competitors
- 'Intimate wedding Ireland 15-20 guests' — the Sláinte sweet spot, targeting the 13–25 guest band that LEA now captures well

The Action Plan

The table below translates the full strategy into specific actions, sequenced by priority. Items marked 'Immediate' or 'This week' should be implemented before any other work is done.

Action	When	Detail
Route 13–25 guest couples to Sláinte	Immediate	On every intro call where a couple mentions this group size, lead with Sláinte. Do not default to Ard. Sláinte closes at 75% — Ard closes at 30% for these couples.
Update pricing page	This week	Publish four core packages at confirmed prices. Feature Sláinte prominently with a 'most popular for intimate weddings' label. Add 'included in every package' section listing the free service layer.
Add USD contract story to homepage	This week	The single most important competitive differentiator is that LEA is the only US-based operator. This must be the first or second thing a couple reads — not buried in the FAQ.
Add vow renewal page	30 days	Peach Perfect and Twin Flames both have dedicated vow renewal pages ranking in search. LEA's symbolic ceremony offering is perfect for this market. No legal complexity, managed from the US.
Speak to photography vendors	30 days	Confirm flexibility around the 12-guest threshold. The goal is a working arrangement that absorbs minor guest count changes without re-quoting — protecting the clean per-package pricing model.
Audit 5 lost Ard proposals post-Dec	30 days	Were these price objections, wrong package fit, or went to competitors? The answer determines whether Ard needs a price or pitch adjustment.
Launch Ladybird Lite concept	60–90 days	The self-service product is launch-ready in concept. Build the guides, set up digital delivery (Gumroad or Squarespace Store), and promote to vow renewal and budget-conscious audiences.
Content: legal complexity article	60 days	'Should I legally marry in Ireland or at home?' is a top search question LEA can own. The honest, expert answer naturally leads couples toward LEA.

THE ONE-PARAGRAPH STRATEGY

Ladybird Ever After is the only US-based company that plans intimate weddings and elopements in the Republic of Ireland, handles every vendor on the couple's behalf, and invoices in USD through a single American contract. The four core packages — Fáilte, Grá, Sláinte, and Ard — are priced at $4,900 to $12,200 and built from 198 real deals showing exactly which guest sizes convert best at which price points. Sláinte is the highest-converting package in the portfolio at 75% close rate and should be the commercial priority. The business has a structural competitive moat that no Ireland-based competitor can match. The growth opportunity sits in the vow renewal market, the 13–25 guest segment, and content that owns the questions only LEA can answer honestly.
